

Emergency Management BC (EMBC) is the province's lead coordinating agency for emergency management activities, including response, planning, training, testing and exercising. This work is done in collaboration with First Nations, local authorities, federal departments, industry, non-government organizations and volunteers.

Building disaster risk reduction and emergency planning into community planning can enhance community resilience, lower the impacts when hazards occur, and decrease the costs of recovery after an emergency. Please join EMBC staff at the 2020 CCP Workshop to share questions and discussion on emergency management planning – we look forward to hearing from you.
